Welcome to Luleå university library/LRC

LTU's Learning Resource Centre is a meeting place and the students' own 'office' at the university. Here, personnel are ready to greet you and guide you through information sources and technology.

Under one roof, you have access to literature, equipment, support and study spaces. You can also use the library as a place to simply relax.

Our website is an excellent starting point in your search for literature and scientific information. Via the website, you can easily reserve books, renew loans and order books and copies. Students and employees at LTU have access to e-books and e-periodicals, even when they are off campus.

In the Language and Text Lab, professionals are ready to help you with written and oral presentations. Develop your information skills in our Search Workshop and our courses.

Students with functional disabilities receive extra support e.g., with recorded course literature.

Distance students can have articles and books sent to them. Contact us for more information!

Challenged by technology? We help you with questions about computer use, copying, printouts, EndNote, Fronter and Word. Check the website! Here, you'll find answers to many questions concerning computer use and software.

The library also welcomes visitors who are not students or employees at LTU. Many services are available to you, too.

Do you have questions? Contact us here at the library, e-mail or ring. Contact information is given on our website. www.ltu.se/lib
